

COMMENCEMENT AT HAMPDEN-SIDNEY

Dr. Cecil Delivers Baccalaureate Sermon—Many Visitors at College.

CLOSING AT OTHER SCHOOLS

Days to Be Full of Interesting Things at Washington and Lee Next Week.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, Va., June 7.—The 133rd commencement of Hampden-Sidney College began yesterday with the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class by the Rev. Russell Cecil, D. D., of Richmond. Dr. Cecil's address delighted the large congregation which assembled to hear him. The graduating class, numbering fifteen, and wearing the class gowns, were seated in front of the pulpit. On the same evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. Alfred T. Graham, D. D., of Lexington, delivered the annual sermon before the Y. M. C. A.

This morning the annual hop given by the German Club took place, and at 8 o'clock this evening the annual celebration of the Union Literary Society was held.

The largest number of visitors seen at a commencement here for many years is present. The alumni of the college are present in unusual force, and everything points to a most successful close of a very successful term.

AT WASHINGTON AND LEE

Interesting Program of Final Events for Next Week.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEXINGTON, Va., June 7.—The 123rd annual commencement of Washington and Lee University will be held next week, June 12 to 16. The year has been most successful, and the present enrollment is the largest in the history of the university. The speakers will be the Rev. James J. Vance, of Newark, N. J.; Hon. Wade Hampton Ellis, of Washington, D. C.; and Hon. George F. Parker, of New York.

In addition to the university exercises, and attendant thereon, will be the usual festivities of the year. The latter have always been the social events of the year at Washington and Lee, and a large number of visitors will be in attendance. The morning exercises and various excursions follow one another in rapid succession, all culminating in the ball on Wednesday, June 16.

To the interested alumni of the two clubs, Harry Lee and Albert Sidney, the boat race this year holds out the most alluring prospect for the closest years. As the aggregate number of victories on each side is about the same, the excitement will be intense. The Harry Lee crew is composed of Hannis, Coxswain; Leap, 4; Powell, 3; Moore, 2; Glasgow, 1. Albert Sidney crew—Dickens, Coxswain; Brown, 4; Moreland, 3; Darnell, 2; Reddow, 1.

Program of Week.

Following is the week's program: Sunday, June 13—9 A. M., baccalaureate sermon by Rev. James J. Vance; 2:30 P. M., address before the Young Men's Christian Association by Rev. James J. Vance.

Monday, June 14—6 P. M., boat race; 9 P. M., final celebration of the literary societies; 11 P. M., Cotillion Club cotillion.

Tuesday, June 15—10:30 A. M., band concert on the campus; 11 A. M., annual meeting of the board of trustees; 6 P. M., band concert on the campus; 9 P. M., address before the Alumni Association by Hon. Wade Hampton Ellis, Assistant Attorney-General of the United States; 11 P. M., alumni banquet.

Wednesday, June 16—11 A. M., commencement exercises—address before the literary societies by Hon. George F. Parker, of New York City; 10:30 P. M., final ball.

Toano High School Finals.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] TOANO, Va., June 7.—The commencement exercises of the Toano High School will be held on Thursday and Friday. Dr. J. C. Metcalf, of Richmond College, will deliver the address. Much interest is felt in the debate between Toano High School and Williamsburg High School, to be held on Thursday night.

This closes the first session of the

If It's Best Clothing Value

That you want as well as the best clothes it is certainly worth your while, in fact, a duty you owe to self-interest, to investigate the offerings and possibilities at this "Maker-to-Wearer" selling store. Whatever the price, there is absolute goodness and dependability in the least expensive, and there is real, intrinsic clothing value for every penny charged in the most expensive garment which we sell. Emphatically best clothes and values, an often asserted and readily proven fact, which we again attest most strikingly in the offering for to-day.

GATHER AROUND FESTIVE BOARD

First Fraternity Banquet of Commencement Season Held at Randolph-Macon.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ASHLAND, Va., June 7.—The first of the fraternity banquets to be given this commencement at Randolph-Macon was held here to-night in the Henry Clay Inn, where the members of Tau Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma gathered with their friends around the festive board. The banquet room was tastefully decorated with old gold and white, the fraternity colors. A large, massive cross, the design of the fraternity pin, brilliantly illuminated with small electric lamps, added greatly to the general scheme. Potted plants in profusion were artistically arranged about the room.

Howard Harlan, of the active chapter, presided, and the toast was given by Mesdames Shepherd, Wightman, Hartsook, Baldwin, Tucker, Addison and Mackey acted as receiving committee and helped to make everybody have the best time possible.

PLEA FOR BETTER ROADS.

Meeting Held in Newbern Arrouse

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWBERN, N. C., June 7.—An important meeting in the interest of good roads was held here to-day. The attendance was small, but all those present took deep interest in the proceedings, and it is hoped that the suggestions made will have practical application. The State Geologist, Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, and a government expert, W. L. Spoon, were the speakers. By the use of the stereopticon much was shown, illustrating the advantages of good roads. It was stated that the ninety-eight counties represented 60,000 miles of highway, and that it was incumbent upon every county to improve its roads. The bond issue measures was recommended. J. W. Stallings, who has been a prisoner in the county jail for a year, having been convicted of running a blind tiger, was released from custody to-day and immediately re-arrested by the United States Deputy Marshal Lincoln on the charge of selling liquor without having a government license. He was placed under $200 bond for appearance at the United States court in October.

James F. Taylor, who was indicted by the federal grand jury in Raleigh last week in connection with the falsification of J. R. B. Carraway, teller of the National Bank of Newbern, appeared before United States Commissioner Hill to-day at a preliminary examination, and was placed under bond of $5,000 for appearance at the next term of court.

Lightning Destroys Building and Occupants Have Narrow Escape—Hail Ruins Crops.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WINCHESTER, Va., June 7.—During a storm to-day lightning struck the residence of Winston Scott, near Grimes, in this county, and the building was destroyed by fire. Scott and members of his family had a narrow escape. One of his children was severely stunned, but will recover. The storm was accompanied by hail, and reports received from various sections of the county state that considerable damage was done to fruit and growing crops.

Pennsylvania Professor Has Long Chat

With German Ruler. POTSDAM, June 7.—Marion D. Learned, professor of German at the University of Pennsylvania, was received by Emperor William. His Majesty welcomed his guest in a small glass pavilion in the park and talked with him for more than an hour on various subjects, but did not touch upon politics. Professor Learned's "Life of Pastors" was mentioned. When the Emperor expressed curiosity concerning this work the professor asked leave to present a copy. His Majesty replied that he would be pleased to accept, and the professor will send him an especially bound volume.

MANLY DOGGING, TUCKER CHARGES

Calls on Judge to Come Into the Open and Tell Where He Stands.

BIG CROWD AT GLOUCESTER

Noteworthy Candidate Addresses Large Audience at Rocky Mount—Voters Interested.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GLOUCESTER, C. H., Va., June 7.—Hon. Henry St. George Tucker, candidate for Governor, addressed the people of Gloucester to-day in the courthouse on the issues of the moment. The building was filled by a large, interested and enthusiastic audience, the large majority of whom were evidently in sympathy with Mr. Tucker. The speech was clearcut and strong, and is believed to have won Mr. Tucker many votes. It was pretty generally conceded to-day that he would carry Gloucester at the primary in August.

Replies to Charges.

Mr. Tucker said in part: "I am charged by Judge Mann with having voted against a bill to investigate the alcoholic liquor traffic in the second session of the Fifty-first Congress. Judge Mann is correct in this, and I would vote against it again to-day, for the resolution contained this language: 'To inquire into the practical results of the prohibitory legislation and the various methods of restraint and taxation redressed upon the liquor traffic in the several States and Territories of the Union and the District of Columbia.' How could any Democrat who believed in the right of the States to control their own affairs vote for such a resolution? Does Judge Mann claim that this thing has come when Virginia is to give up her right to control her local policy, and put it in the hands of the Federal government? No principle has been better settled in our judicial history than that all questions affecting the health and morals of the people and questions which belong to the States and cannot be taken from them. From Judge Mann's point of view, it is a disgraceful thing that Chief Justice Waite, the reports of the great principle, and Judge Mann now comes before the people of Virginia and tells them that he will uphold the principle of each State determining its own policy. To investigate the alcoholic liquor traffic and the principle which ex-President Roosevelt invoked—claiming the power is the Federal Government to open the doors of the schools of California against the protest of the people of that State to Japanese and Chinese, and if to them to open the doors to the negroes. The encroachment of Federal power on the reserved rights of the States was never more artfully attempted than in this resolution. And I am proud of the vote which I gave against it—giving to the people of Virginia the right to determine for themselves questions for themselves, without the power of New York, Pennsylvania or Wisconsin to determine it for them. Where does the State stand?"

"I am anxious to know exactly where Judge Mann stands on this great question. The Anti-Saloon League, of which he is an officer, had its meeting here last week, and Judge Mann declared for the great principle of local option for the settlement of the liquor question. Judge Mann is a man of honor, and before that body, in which he declared: 'This principle of local option, which is the policy of the league, and which I think wise, permits to each State to settle this great question for themselves, and has not been slow in its operation as a result of the determination of the question by the communities for themselves has been enforced easy, and the Old Dominion has been a long time temperance lines in such a way.' etc. At Petersburg, when Judge Mann opened his campaign, he declared, he said: 'On the 18th of this question, during my former campaign, I made the following announcement as part of my platform: 'I have been, and am now, in favor of the passage and enforcement of laws which will regulate the liquor traffic as to best serve and benefit the moral interests of the people, but I believe that these laws should only be passed when demanded by a strong public sentiment, which is the basis of their enforcement. Democratic party has been along the enactment declared such to be its policy, and the people at the polls have approved it.'"

"Must Have Public Behind Them. 'Temperance has greatly advanced since 1894, and I believe that its best service by the policy of local option, and that an educational campaign should be under this policy will best promote its success. I believe that the most efficient enforcement of the law, and the most permanent and successful enforcement of the law, is the one which has the people behind it.'"

"Every time I have met Judge Mann in discussion, which was at Boydton once, he declared for this same policy of local option. But upon the time we met at Boydton, he had declined to answer the inquiry of the newspapers as to how he would vote on the question of State-wide prohibition. He limited to the people, declaring that the papers were opposed to him, and had no right to ask him questions, but he answered it at Boydton, after making a speech, advocating local option, and that he would vote for State-wide prohibition at the polls."

Leaves It to Voters. "New fellow-citizens, I ask you to tell me how Judge Mann, or any man who entertains the views which I do, and which I have quoted to you from his speech—claiming that he stood for local option, the right of each community to determine for itself the question for themselves, and which has resulted in the advancement of temperance in this country—how can a man like such a man, in the next breath, declare for State-wide prohibition, which denies the right of each community to determine for itself the question for themselves, and gives the right to other communities to determine it for them? How can a man, who declares for local option, wherein the question is left to the voters, and then, when asked to leave it to the voters, declare for State-wide prohibition? He is a free trader, but would vote for protection at the first opportunity; or that he believed in education, but would vote to close the schools the next day."

MAN AT ROCKY MOUNT.

Says Little About Tucker, but Discusses Needs of State.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ROCKY MOUNT, Va., June 7.—Judge William Hodges Mann, of Notoway, spoke to a large and attentive audience at the courthouse to-day. He was introduced by Hon. E. W. Saunders and made a pleasing speech, in which little was said about Mr. Tucker. He declared that if elected he would use his best efforts to secure larger educational appropriations, agricultural institutions and increased pensions for Confederate soldiers.

The Doctor Writes of Counterfeiters.

CHAS. H. FLETCHER, New York City.

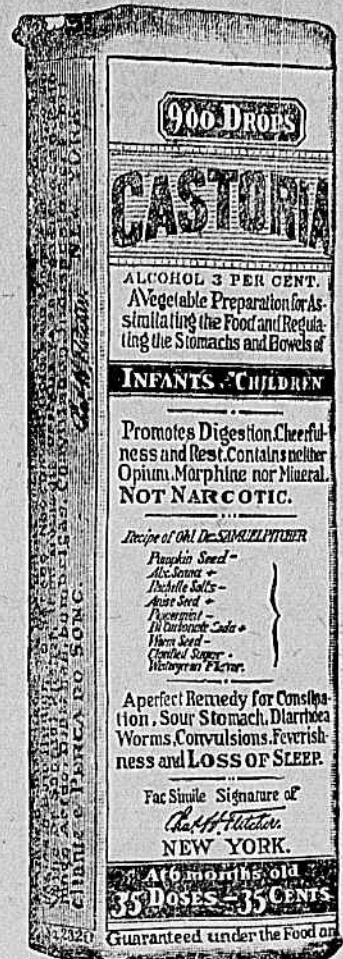

Hyannis, Mass., Aug. 17, 1905.

Dear Mr. Fletcher:—I wish to congratulate you on your numerous victories over counterfeiters and imitators of Castoria, and trust the time is not far distant when these inferior and dangerous mixtures will be entirely suppressed.

You are right when you say in your advertisements that it is "Experience against Experiment."

I feel it to be an outrage, and an imposition upon the parents of little children that my name should be associated with imitations of Castoria, dangerous to the health and life of these little ones who too often fight their battles for life in vain.

Let me again commend you for the high standard you have maintained in the preparation of my prescription, and I confidently believe it is due to this scrupulous integrity you are indebted for the wonderful sale of Castoria to-day, and the steady growth it has had since I gave you the details of its manufacture in my laboratory thirty-three years ago.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Mansur Drug Co., of St. Paul, Minn., says: "We are not in the habit of recommending proprietary medicines, but we never hesitate to say a good word for Castoria. It is a medical success."

Hegeman & Co., of New York City, N. Y., says: "We can say for your Castoria that it is one of the best selling preparations in our stores. That is conclusive evidence that it is satisfactory to the users."

Myers-Dillon Drug Co., of Omaha, Neb., says: "Your Castoria is one of the best sellers we have. We cheerfully recommend it to our trade voluntarily at all times, and will testify to its merits at any and all times."

Weber Drug Co., of Indianapolis, Ind., says: "Fletcher's Castoria is an article for which there is no substitute. It is undoubtedly one of the most popular articles on the market to-day and our customers for it are numbered by the hundreds."

Parrish & Bailey Pharmacy, of Los Angeles, Cal., says: "During an experience of over 30 years in the retail drug business we have never found a proprietary remedy that has had such a large sale or given such universal satisfaction as your Castoria."

Theo. Metcalf Co., of Boston, Mass., says: "We have handled Fletcher's Castoria for years and consider it one of the best preparations made. Our sales are continually increasing and everyone of our customers have nothing but praise for Fletcher's Castoria."

W. H. Chapman, of Montreal, Que., says: "I have sold Fletcher's Castoria for many years and have yet to hear of one word other than praise of its virtues. I look upon your preparation as one of the few so called patent medicines having merit and unhesitatingly recommend it as a safe household remedy."

LYNCHBURG KICKS ON MAIL SERVICE

Takes Three Days to Send Letter to Richmond and Get Reply.

EXTENDING CAR SYSTEM

White Boy Held on Charge of Stealing Valuable Jewels.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 7.—Work will begin in a few days on the extension of the street car system of the city to Fairview Heights, a South Lynchburg suburb, on the Norfolk and Western Belt Line. When completed the board will make a number of factory sites available for use. The work includes a heavy cut under the old line of the Southern Railway to prevent a grade crossing, and a half-mile or more of macadam road, in addition to the car tracks. The improvements will cost more than $25,000.

Complaints is being made here of the poor mail service enjoyed by Lynchburg from the North and East. The first mail to reach the city from Washington, Baltimore or Richmond comes at 2:15 P. M. A letter mailed in either of these cities after 8 o'clock in the forenoon cannot be delivered here until the following day, a condition requiring three days for an answer to return and be delivered in any of the cities mentioned. There are four daily mails from Washington to Lynchburg, two of these coming between 2:15 and 4:15 P. M., and the other two between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning.

Off For Reunion.

Garland-Roose Camp, Confederate Veterans, of this city, will be represented at the Memphis reunion by the following members: The Rev. T. M. McCormick and Henry May, of Lynchburg; the Rev. D. G. G. Harris, of Franktown, Va.; and G. Williams, of Waynesville, Mo., the latter being former residents of the Hill City.

The Southern Railway is pushing the construction of the new line through Lynchburg with as much energy as before the panic of 1907. No less than six different forces are at work on the five miles of the "cut-off." Latest advice is that the company hopes to use the line early in 1910, in which event a $50,000 station will first be erected in the West End.

H. G. McCausland, of this city, who has been with the Chesapeake and Ohio for some years, has been appointed commercial agent for the Kanawha Dispatch, a freight line operated over the Chesapeake and Ohio and Big Four. He succeeds the late L. H. Boatwright.

Dr. H. M. Tallaferra, city coroner, who has been on a extended European trip, has returned to the West End. Mrs. B. L. Megginson, of this city, has announced the forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Ida Virginia, to Percy C. Royster, to take place at her home here on June 15.

The will of W. Mark Mathews was probated in the Corporation Court this morning. The estate, valued at about $25,000, is left to his family, there being several special bequests.

Store Robbed.

The June term of the Corporation Court began this morning, with Judge Frank P. Christian presiding. The grand jury returned four indictments, all of the charges being serious.

The store of Mosely & Rudley, at Sixth and Cabell Streets, was entered by unknown persons some time before closing Saturday night and opening for business this morning, the thief getting away with three pairs men's shoes. Entrance to the store was effected through a rear window, the thief going to the Cabell Street floor through the elevator.

Ernest Callahan, a white youth, was held to-day in Police Court for the action of the grand jury on the charge of housebreaking and larceny. It is alleged that the boy went into the home of N. H. C. Totty, on Polk Street, recently and stole a watch valued at $250 and a diamond ring worth $75. The watch was recovered, but Callahan claims, the police say, to have lost the ring.

Winchester Assignment.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINCHESTER, Va., June 7.—Mrs. Annie Berlin, trading as the Berlin Tailoring Parlor, made assignment to-day to Attorney R. Gray Williams, who stated that assets are practically nothing and liabilities about $800.

Shot by Town Sergeant.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, Va., June 7.—Sam H. Atkins, the town sergeant, shot John W. Kendall in the fleshy part of his leg, inflicting an ugly wound, this afternoon about 2 o'clock.

A brother of Kendall, who was an eye-witness, asserts that the shooting was unprovoked.

As yet no arrests have been made, and there is little or no excitement over the affair.
